PROCEEDINGS OF OKLA. LEGISLATURE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 28. The house this afternoon in committee of the whole passed to third reading the general appropriation bill amounting to approximately $4,500,000 for salaries for state officials, appointees and employees, and including contingent funds of the departments. The appropriations for the salaries for the different departments included the increases that had been allowed in a previous bill.

Only a few attempts were made to strike appropriations from the bill. The first was to eliminate the appropriation of $18,000 for the maintenance of a bureau of venereal diseases. It was explained that this was to meet a government appropriation for work practically already begun in the state. The amendment was lost. An amendment by Mr. Cheatham of Creek county would strike out $15,880 for the superintendent's salary and other working funds for the fish hatchery at Medicine Park. On a vote the appropriation was stricken but later it was reconsidered and the amount re-instated.

An unfavorable report came from the committee on appropriations relative to House Bill 492, making an appropriation of $40,000 for truck eradication work in some of the southeastern counties. Mr. Bobo asked that the bill be placed on the calendar, even though the committee had reported adversely. This will be done on a vote of the house.

Resolution by Mr. Stevenson of the house, which had been adopted in the senate, was given similar action in the house, asking that restrictions be removed from some of the Indian surplus land so it could be made available for purchase on terms by some of the returning soldiers.

The senate adopted a resolution by Mr. Davidson extending the reports on state income tax until April 1. They would be due otherwise on March 15. The resolution by Mr.

LODGE WOULD AMEND LEAGUE

OFFERS RECOMMENDATIONS AND ASKS INFORMATION ON SOME POINTS.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, republican floor leader, speaking in the senate warned the America people today to weigh carefully the constitution of the league of nations and to insist upon a fundamental revision and declared his conviction that instead of safeguarding the world's peace the league as now planned would engender misunderstandings and strife. The constitution as now drafted would contravene the Monroe doctrine, strike at American sovereignty, substitute internationalism for nationalism and benefit Europe principally.

Unlike other speakers on the subject, Lodge gave specific recommendations for amending the league's constitution. He advocated a definite provision for peaceful withdrawal from the league, definite statement as to whether the League is to have its own international force or summon armed forces of member nations and plain a statement whether suggestions of the executive council shall be binding.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE SQUIRRELS' SCAMPER.

"It was an autumn day," said Daddy, "and two little squirrels were playing in the garden belonging to an old white house."

"It's chilly," said the squirrel named Sharpy Squirrel, and his little playmate named Bright Eyes said: "Yes, it is really very chilly. We must have a good scamper so as to keep warm. We must have a chase and a race."

"Indeed we must," said Sharpy. "Do you know I found some more nuts to-day?"

"Did you, indeed?" inquired Bright Eyes. "We will save them for the really cold winter, though."

"Now Sharpy and Bright Eyes had gone into partnership. They were sharing their nuts and their hiding place for the season as they both got along extremely well together."

"They were also very saving. When they found nuts they put them away for days when there would not be any to be found. They thought of the future and of the cold winter soon coming, of which they had already felt samples. If they had been children and grown-ups instead of squirrels they would have put some pennies in little banks to save for something which might turn up later on."

"So they didn't have a meal of the nuts which Sharpy had found. They played about and searched for more."

"But somehow the day was very chilly. The air seemed to go right through their little bodies, and even their bushy tails shivered in the cold.

She Walked Very Slowly Along.

"It's just because it is the first cold day of the year," said Sharpy.

"Yes," agreed Bright Eyes, "it always seems colder at first. And the same is true of the summer."

"You dear, sweet squirrel," said Sharpy. "How nice of you to talk of the summer when it is cold. I can almost imagine I am warm again!"

"Yes," said Bright Eyes, "in the early summer, or the late spring, when the first warm days come we really don't know how we are going to stand the heat. It's because we've been used to the cold."

"That's so," said Sharpy. "That's so."

"And," continued Bright Eyes, "we will get used to the cold. We can't right away, because we've been used to the warmth for so long."

"And Mr. Sun isn't shining today," said Sharpy. "He makes a difference."

"He does indeed," said Bright Eyes. "Just at that moment a lady walked through the part of the woods where Sharpy and Bright Eyes were having their talk. They had grown very chilly by this time, for not only was the day cold, but they had not begun their races as they had planned. They had cheered up a little thinking and talking of the summer and of the heat, but they had not really become very warm."

"The lady was taking a walk along a beautiful wooded path. She had been walking for some distance and the air had made her feel very strong and well and warm because she had been moving about."

"She had a long fur scarf and she let it fall from one shoulder until it almost reached the ground in the back."

"Look, Sharpy," exclaimed Bright Eyes. "What! asked Sharpy."

"The lady has a toboggan slide made of fur. It will be nice and warm and we can exercise."

"Good idea," said Sharpy. "So both squirrels ran over behind the lady as she walked along and jumped onto her fur scarf. Then they scampered up it and down it. She walked very slowly along, holding the scarf on her shoulder so the squirrels wouldn't fall when they were having their slides."

"How warm they got. How splendidly they did feel for the exercise! And the fur was so nice and soft and pleasant for this time of the year."

"After a time they had had enough of a frolic and they left the lady after she had turned back on her way home. But they felt so fine and warm—and, ended Daddy, "this is a true story."

School Gardens Paid Well.

Many Seattle school war gardens produced more than enough to pay for this winter's fuel, declared Robert E. Chapman, who had charge of the garden work there last summer. Hundreds of families in their war gardens produced all the vegetables they could use during the summer and all they could store for this winter. Mr. Chapman has been made regional director of the United States school garden army in Washington and Oregon. He is now urging everybody to get things in readiness for next year's planting.

ARMY PSYCHOLOGISTS FOR CITY PUBLIC SCHOOL WORK

That psychologists who have served the army in time of war might be profitably employed as directors of "departments of psychology and efficiency" in city public school systems, is suggested by the Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior.

In a letter to city superintendents, Commissioner Claxton points out that psychology departments already exist in the schools of a number of cities, and that they ought to be established in all cities of over 30,000 people, with such men in charge as these psychologists with army experience. Dr. Claxton writes:

"The fact that two or three hundred young men who have for several months been working in the psychology division of the army are now about to be discharged offers an unusual opportunity for city schools to obtain the services of competent men as directors of departments of psychology and efficiency for such purposes as measuring results of teaching and establishing standards to be attained in the several school studies, applying mental tests and discovering mental aptitudes of pupils, discovering defective children and children of superior intelligence, and investigating various other vital questions necessary to establish an intelligent basis for promotions, class organization, and special schools."

"Such departments have already been established in the public schools of a number of our cities and have justified themselves by their results to such an extent as to make it quite plain that in every city of more than 30,000 such service should be provided."

"Most of these men are young men who have had experience in the schools and are graduate students from our best colleges and universities. As they are discharged they are rapidly finding employment either in schools or in colleges or in the business world where the value of such services as they can render is now generally understood. After a few weeks it will hardly be possible to obtain their services without offering them salaries sufficiently large to tempt them from work in which they will then be engaged."

"I am therefore, calling attention now to this unusual opportunity for inaugurating or increasing this work in the city schools of the country."

DAIRING MEXICAN BANDIT LEADER MEETS DEATH

By the Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—Luis Terrazas, 3d., rebel "general" and adventurous grandson of the former multi-millionaire Chihuahua ranchman of the same name, has been killed in the state of Tlaxcala, while serving with the bandits of Marcelo Caraveo, according to reports received here from Puebla.

Terrazas, who was about 25 years old, is credited with being the leader in numerous cannibal chapters of the history of modern Mexican revolts. During to fool hardness, he had on numerous occasions been in imminent peril of death and, when his body was recovered, it is said to have borne the scars of 15 wounds.

His fatal escapade was venturing alone into the village of Cholulul, where he was set upon by nearly a score of the inhabitants. He killed three before succumbing to a machine blow.

HAWAIIAN VOLCANO BECOMING ACTIVE

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Feb. 28.—The greatest activity in 45 years is reported from Kilauea, Hawaii, one of the world's greatest volcanoes.

In a letter received here from L. W. de Vis-Norton, secretary of the Hawaiian Volcano Research Association, it is stated:

"I have returned from a prolonged stay at Kilauea volcano," he wrote. "The lava column is undergoing an unprecedented rise and is overflowing in all directions from the deep into the main crater. There now are five lakes instead of one. I have walked, with Professor T. A. Jagger, Jr., the observatory director, over the whole of the area of the fire-pit, on the surface of the lava column, and same away with a sort of bewildering kaleidoscope of white-hot caverns, splashing fountains, and seething turmoil, impossible of conception to stand at the side of a glowing cone ten feet high, and look down through a kind of window into a roaring inferno beneath, while the ground rocks heave under one's feet."

"As the lava will continue to rise until March 21, we are in for some very wonderful displays, and it is 45 years since we have had such intense activity at the crater. Mauna Loa, (on Hilo island) is becoming restless and incandescent gas have been rising for some days, but the absence of earthquakes, and of night-glow from the summit, appear to indicate that no immediate eruption is to be feared."

The idea is to take stock in reputable enterprises that may desire to locate there and in other ways assist in securing concerns that will turn loose fat pay rolls. In other words, Tulsa has announced the intention of being the first city in the state when the 1920 census is taken.

The soldiers have had no better friend in congress than Tom D. McKeown. He has on several occasions stirred things up when evidence of injustice to the private soldiers was presented and he has been an able champion of their rights. On a recent occasion he roundly criticized the autocratic power assumed by some army officers, who not only refused to consider meritorious applications for discharge, but punished men who asked and told of abuses in the army. He gave these petty tyrants a jolt by having inserted in the army appropriation bill a provision that it should not be available if the war department made or permitted to be made, rules forbidding men to communicate facts about conditions existing in the army, thus making it impossible for crooked officials to cover up abuses by enforcing silence on the men. While the great majority of the officers are honorable men a few crooks can make a great deal of trouble, if permitted to go unchecked. Another thing he fought for was to give the discharged men two months pay to enable them to live until they could find some employment on their return to private life. In a recent speech in the House he roundly criticized the management of the army postoffice. There has been much carelessness in handling these mails with the result that often it has been almost impossible to hear from soldiers in Europe or receive letters from them. It was this condition that he roundly criticized. Other officers came in for criticism for working soldiers on tasks properly belonging to civilians. He cited one instance where a bunch of civilian laborers who were cleaning out a warehouse were discharged and soldiers put at the work. The Oklahoma congressman has always stood for a square deal for everybody and he has not changed since his election to congress.

Although Indian Territory ceased to exist more than eleven years ago, news of the fact has evidently traveled slowly. A recent mail issued by the federal department of agriculture and appearing in the Literary Digest, gives Indian Territory a place. Is the maker of the map a descendant of Rip Van Winkle?

KELLY FIELD PLAYERS AT NORMAL TONIGHT

"It has been a long time since a show has provoked so much laughter as did the performance of the Famous Kelly Field Players at the Grand Theatre last night. From the rise of the curtain until its final fall at almost 11 o'clock, the audience that filled the house, rocked with gaiety. The Kelly Field Players are a certain cure for the blues."

This is what the San Antonio Express said about the Famous Kelly Field Players, who will appear at the normal auditorium tonight at 8 P. M.

No show that has been through this section for months has caused so much favorable comment as the Players. They have been unusually successful wherever they have appeared, and the above notice given their show in a representative city is evidence that their work is of metropolitan standard. These men are not amateurs—not merely clever soldiers. They are professionals, who before entering military service, were well-known on the best vaudeville circuits in the country.

After entertaining soldiers in the various camps for the past eighteen months, these men have been given special permission by the War Department to tour the country, to produce before civilian audiences the shows that have helped keep up the morale of the American army. Variety, originality and cleverness are the features of this all-soldier show, and those who are fortunate enough to see the performance given by the Players will talk about it for months. Tickets are now on sale at the Palm Garden.

MISS WORTHY'S RECOVERY SETS THE TOWN TALKING

Remarkable New Medicine, Irogen, Ends Suffering of Years' Standing After Everything Else Had Failed and Ozark Woman is Now Well and Happy—Has Gained 19 Pounds.

"I only wish I could talk to every suffering person in the country and tell them face to face the remarkable way Irogen has ended all my miserable suffering and made a healthy, happy woman of me after everything else failed to bring any relief," declared Miss Nettie Worthy, one of the best loved women of the thriving little town of Ozark, Ala., recently when talking about the wonderful new medicine that is causing such a sensation throughout the country.

Miss Worthy has lived in Florida at the various resorts for many winters and is well known by thousands of tourists from every part of the United States. She is a woman of culture and refinement, and only her deep sense of duty and desire to aid her fellow sufferers prompts her to make the following remarkable statement:

"For twenty-two years," continued Miss Worthy, I have been engaged in the millinery business, and oftentimes had to work from twelve to fourteen hours a day. Too close confinement and overwork finally caused nervous indigestion, and I rapidly began to go downhill. I had no appetite, and what little I did force down caused gas to form and made me suffer misery. My nerves were all to pieces and my circulation was so bad that sometimes my heart would skip and palpitate until I was almost frightened to death.

"I dragged along for several winters, dosing up and depending on doctors to keep me going through the busy season, and then I would have to give up and go to bed. Finally, about a year ago, I had a complete nervous breakdown. I was in bed, hardly able to move for four long months, and on top of all my other troubles I developed Riga's disease in my gums. This poisoned my whole system and I was told I could never work or do anything again.

"I tried every kind of treatment and doctors, and even went to Atlanta to see a specialist, but nothing did me any good, and I finally came back to Ozark, worse than when I went away. Honestly, I couldn't sit up more than three hours a day, and even the lightest diet would upset my stomach so I could hardly stand it.

I was nothing but skin and bones, and just lay in bed growing more despondent every day.

"This was just the condition I was in when a friend told me about Irogen and begged me to try it. I had little faith in anything, but agreed just to please him. Imagine my surprise when after four days on Irogen, I found I could sit up all day without tiring and had begun to get hungry. You may be sure I kept on taking it then, and now I'm so well I hardly know myself. I eat anything I want, all kinds of vegetables and even pork, and everything just tastes fine and agrees with me perfectly. I sleep sound every night and get up in the morning feeling well and strong, cook my own breakfast and do all my own housework. Then I put on my vegetables for dinner and go out on the lawn and sit in the sun, or call on the neighbors.

"I've already gained nineteen pounds and I can walk any distance in town without any trouble. I feel bright and cheerful all the time, and I can tell you I'm happy to feel as well as I do now, and my recovery is the talk of the whole town. Everybody is marveling at what Irogen has done for me and singing its praises, and I know from experience what a wonderful medicine it is.

"I hope others will try it as I did and grow well and strong again, and if suffering women will write me I will be glad to tell you all about my troubles and just what Irogen has done for me."

Note: Irogen, the product mentioned above, is now on sale in Ada by Gwin & Mays, in Allen by G. W. Busby, in Francis by the Francis Drug Co.; in Stonewall by L. P. Carpenter and in Vian by the Lyon Drug Company, and the leading druggist in practically every city, town and village in the state.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS WILL GET $60 EACH

From the Dallas News.

The News has received many inquiries as to whether soldiers who have been, or are to be, discharged from the United States Army, will receive any additional pay. A rider providing for such pay was attached to the recently enacted revenue bill, and was enacted as Section 1406 of the War Revenue Law of 1918, effective Feb. 25. This section reads as follows:

"Section 1406. That all persons serving in the military or naval forces of the United States during the present war who have, since April 6, 1917, resigned or been discharged under honorable conditions (or, in the case of Reservists, been placed on inactive duty), or who at any time hereafter (but not later than the termination of the current enlistment or term of service) in the case of the enlisted personnel and female nurses, or within one year after the termination of the present war in the case of officers, may resign or be discharged under honorable conditions (or, in the case of Reservists, be placed on inactive duty), shall be paid in addition to all other amounts due them in pursuance of law, $60 each.

"This amount shall not be paid (1) to any person who though appointed or inducted into the military or naval forces on or prior to Nov. 11, 1918, had not reported for duty at his station on or prior to such date; or (2) to any person who has already received one month's pay under the provisions of Section 9 of the act entitled 'An Act to authorize the president to increase temporarily the military establishment of the United States,' approved May 18, 1917; or (3) to any person who is entitled to retired pay; or (4) to the heirs or legal representatives of any person entitled to any payment under this section who has died or may die before receiving such payment. In the case of any person who has been appointed or inducted into the military or naval forces of the United States and has been or is again separated from the service above specified, only one payment of $60 shall be made.

"The above amount, in the case of separation from the service on or prior to the passage of this act, shall be paid as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, and in the case of separation from the service after the passage of this act shall be paid at the time of such separation.

"The amounts herein provided for shall be paid out of the appropriations for 'Pay of the Army' and 'Pay of the Navy,' respectively, by such disbursing officers as may be designated by the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy.

"The Secretary of War, and the Secretary of the Navy respectively shall make all regulations necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section."

"Section 9 of the 'Act to authorize the President to increase temporarily the military establishment of the United States,' referred to in the second proviso attached to the section just quoted, provides for the discharge of any officers for the good of the service, such officer upon his discharge to receive one month's pay and allowances.

"$500 WOULDN'T BUY THE GOOD IT DID ME"

Mrs. Hunt Declares Tanlac Is Worth Its Weight in Gold. She Had Suffered for Five Long Years.

"Five hundred dollars wouldn't buy the good that five bottles of Tanlac have done for me and I just think it's worth its weight in gold," said Mrs. Nannie Hunt, of 6019 New York avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

"I was told repeatedly that my nervousness couldn't be cured and that made me despondent so that I didn't know what to do. Even the noise of a passing street car would upset me so that I would shake like a leaf. My heart fluttered and palpitated and many a time I have had fainting spells and have fallen to the floor. My stomach was in such a bad condition that I couldn't even digest an egg, and this had gone on for five years until I was on the verge of nervous prostration.

"A friend of mine who knew that my case had been given up as hopeless made me a present of three bottles of Tanlac and it proved to be a priceless gift. I have taken five bottles altogether and have gained eleven pounds in weight and haven't had a nervous spell since. I can eat anything I want and am building up every day. I just can't say too much in praise of Tanlac."

MODEL PRISONER IS JAIL BREAKER

Silk Shirts and Snuff Changed Into Steel Saw That Does the Work.

Geneva, Ill.—Way back in November Deputy Sheriff Herman Vierke, making his rounds in Geneva's new "tight and toolproof" jail, came across a prisoner sawing away on the nice new shining bars of his cell.

"Saw away, my friend," said Vierke, confident of the resisting powers of the cell bars. "Just you saw, saw and saw. It's fine exercise for you and it won't hurt our nice little jail a bit. If it wasn't against the rules I would let you amuse yourself forever. But gimme the saws."

Remember, this was way back in November. Just for the sake of the rule, however, Vierke made sure the prisoner did not get hold of any more saws. The prisoner from then on was a model. Every other day a striking blond called, bringing the model prisoner clean silk shirts and snuff.

Then one day Vierke found the model prisoner's cell empty. Two of the "toolproof" cell bars had been cut. A day later Neil Gallagher was arrested at Cedar Rapids, Ia.

"I'm not spooftin'." It was easy. I pulled silk threads from the shirts, stuck snuff on the threads and 'sawed and sawed and sawed' right through the nice shiny bars," explained Gallagher.

"Snuff?" queried Vierke. "Snuff—hell!" Gallagher came back. "That was emery dust. A silk thread and emery dust has got it 40 ways on any steel saw ever made."

CLIMBS BRIDGE IN SLEEP

Structural Ironworker Is Rescued From Perilous Position by Fire Department.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Felix Lappelle should be crowned the country's champion dreamer.

With legs and arms all skinned he awakened to find himself perched more than 100 feet above the ground on supporting rods over Jack's Run, on the edge of the city.

Firemen summoned to rescue Lappelle shinned up the supporting columns to a point from which they could throw a rope to the man. He was then dropped slowly to the ground.

Lappelle said he had been a Detroit structural iron worker and that he had dreamed of climbing over the bridge ironwork. The temperature was midway between freezing point and zero when he performed the stunt.

Man Puts Up Security for Hotel Job, Then Finds He Has Neither Money Nor Job.

St. Louis.—"How would you like to become keeper of the silverware at Hotel Jefferson?" a stranger asked Cosmo Stefan, a Greek, here.

"Fine," exclaimed Stefan. "Then the job is yours. Can you give security?"

Stefan could—and did. He gave the stranger $1,372, which he drew from the bank. A second stranger appeared and the money was wrapped in a package for safe keeping and turned over to him.

"I'm afraid I might be robbed," the second stranger said. "You had better keep this," and he gave Stefan the package. Both men departed. Later, when Stefan opened the package he had neither job nor money.

Falls to Fool "Spotters."

Macon, Ga.—As a sort of cushion shot, J. R. Lybrand, of Augusta, Ga., checked a trunkful of whiskey from the North to Macon and, then rechecked the trunk to Augusta, with the idea that a trunk checked from Macon would not come under suspicion. Little did he know, however, that a government agent saw him leave Cincinnati with his booze treasure, but he began to "wot" when he was arrested here by a special agent the liquor seized and a fine of $500 imposed.

MEXICO WILL ELECT PRESIDENT NEXT YEAR

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—Candidates for election to the presidency of Mexico are organizing and preparing for the campaigns, despite a proclamation by President Carranza urging that such action be postponed until the latter part of this year.

Only a few political papers strongly opposed to the government question the sincerity of President Carranza's declaration that he has no intention of attempting to evade the constitutional provision prohibiting one man from twice serving as president by seeking his own re-election.

Those most prominently mentioned as probable candidates for the presidency of 1920 are General Pablo Gonzales, General Salvador Alvarado, General Alvaro Obregon and Attorney Raul Berlanga, now secretary of the interior.

General Alvarado was founder of the Henneque Regulation Commission of Yucatan. He is reported to have begun negotiations for the purchase of a newspaper in the capital to support his candidacy. It is expected that General Obregon will receive the support of one of the Mexico City papers now owned by a group of National Liberal Party leaders.

Dr. Doan Makes a Great Discovery; Influenza Curable.

The best medical brains of America have been baffled by the influenza epidemic. Authorities disagree as to its cause. But Dr. Doan of Oklahoma has made a wonderful discovery in connection with its cure. Thirty years ago he made a preparation which has cured many cases of severe pneumonia. When influenza came he prescribed it, and with wonderful results. Patients have recovered after they had been coughing blood for a day.

The vapor or odor from "In-Hale-It" is drawn deep into the lungs. The severe pain in the lungs stops almost instantly. It is necessary to repeat the inhaling of this vapor. If the patient goes to sleep so much the better. A recent case in Ottawa county is interesting. The patient despaired. So much "In-Hale-It" was used that it brought sleep. In the excitement of the moment part of the bottle was spilled in the patient's mouth, but no harm was done. Today the patient has fully recovered. There are hundreds of such cases where "In-Hale-It" has saved lives. Get a bottle today and be ready. Treat your old day and be ready. Treat your old day and be ready.

Any good druggist sells "In-Hale-It" for 50c. By mail 60c. Prepaid by Doan's Pharmacy, Miami, Okla.

Sold by Gwin & Mays Drug Co., and M. A. Waits.

"We didn't have the heart to tog up while the boy was in France"

Remarked the father of one of our returning heroes, "but now that he's home, I'm here for the proudest looking outfit in the place, and his mother has three dress-makers on the job right this minute."

When Johnny comes marching home safe and sound, we all like to look as good as we feel.

It Pays To Read Advertisements

You've often heard the saying, "It pays to advertise." That is true. And it also pays to read advertisements—pays you. If you read advertisements consistently for any length of time you will agree that this statement is also true.

It pays you in money saved. There are many real bargains offered from time to time in the advertisements appearing in this paper. Watch for them.

It pays you in satisfaction. When a merchant asks you to come to his store he obligates himself to sell you quality goods "as advertised." You have a right to expect satisfaction from what you buy and you get it.

It pays you in time saved. When you know exactly what you want to buy and where you want to buy it, you don't have to "look around" and waste time finding it.

Don't YOU want to save money and time? Wouldn't you like to be sure of getting satisfactory service and quality goods every time you go to a store? Then read the advertisements and patronize the stores which can serve you best.
